REPORT OF THE LIBRARY TRUSTEES

During the past year 172 new books have been added to the library and these are classified as follows: juvenile fiction 38, juvenile non-fiction 4, adult fiction 100 and adult non-fiction 30. The library now contains 326 volumes of juvenile fiction, 78 of juvenile non-fiction, 1660 of adult fiction, 1233 of adult non-fiction and a reference collection of 175 volumes, making a total of 3472 volumes.

There has been an increase of about 33 per cent in circulation during the year and the weekly issues now average about 175.

The following periodicals have been provided for the reading room: Harper's, Scribners, American, Good Housekeeping, Reader's Digest, Child Welfare and Literary Digest, and Fortune is given to the Library by Mrs. Mary Folsom.

The reading room is being used more and more by students and this has created a demand for additional reference books, a new encyclopedia and books on the school reading lists. The trustees feel that these needs must be met during the coming year and all money not otherwise absolutely needed will be used for this purpose.

Mrs. Alice C. McFadden, who had for many years given most faithful and efficient service as our librarian, died on November 14th, 1935, after a long and painful illness.

The expenses for the past year were as follows:

SCHOOL REPORT

THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Board of North Hampton:

I herewith present to you my sixth annual report as superintendent of your schools.

In accordance with the vote of the school district meeting of 1935, modern moveable desks have been installed in the middle grade room at the Center School. Each pupil, in this room, now sits in a seat adjusted to his greatest comfort. This equipment should definitely help the pupils to a more business like procedure in their school work. The pride of each child in taking care of his desk is evident from the excellent condition which each now presents. The children of today, as indeed the adults also, are inclined to be careless in their use of public property. By giving the pupils equipment of which they may be proud, and by holding each definitely responsible for its continued good appearance, I believe a valuable lesson in respect for public property can be impressed upon their minds. By following the plan of the School Board in purchasing desks for one room each year the benefits will accrue to all pupils and the yearly cost will be reduced to a minimum.

During the current year we are attempting a closer and more efficient testing program in the schools of North Hampton. The first step in this program is the giving of complete tests at least twice each year, with additional partial tests as needed. In the early autumn we ascertain where each pupil is scholastically and in June we examine his fitness for promotion. The first series aids the teachers in finding out more definitely just where the pupil needs help and therefore will furnish a guide for the work of the year. The second series will help determine the degree of success attained by the pupil. The first of these tests was given on October 23 and 24 of the current year.

During the past few years special effort, particularly in the lower grades, has been placed upon the teaching of Reading as we believe this to be the foundation of all scholarship. As this special effort has now been continued for four years we can evaluate the results obtained. The tests of October 1935 proved the following fact. All of your grades are well above the reading standards for the country as a whole, ranging from plus two months to plus seven months. I believe our method of teaching Reading is proven.

In the report of 1934 we stated that the study of English was the field of special endeavor during that year. The results of the teachers' work in this subject are again shown by the above standardized tests. All of your grades are above the national standards ranging from plus 1-2 month to one year in advance. Two classes made the latter record.

In the report of 1935 there appears the statement that "this year we shall devote special effort to the practical application of Arithmetic computation". We find, by this autumn's tests, that the classes of the two upper rooms, where problems became a vital part of the program, averaged plus 2.7 months higher in problem tests than in the Arithmetic Computation tests. This is an unusual result and bespeaks favorably the work of both teachers and pupils.

This year we are making an intensive drive upon Arithmetic computation. The results of this drive will be given in the next annual report. If the work of previous years is any criterion the end of this year will see a like advance in this branch of our school program.

In administering a school system it is necessary that a definite policy be decided upon and that this policy be consistently followed. The lack of such a principle results in continually changing objectives and no actual advance toward any worthy goal. In all questions that come to us and all decisions that must be made, I have kept in mind the one fact that the schools are established to serve the best interests of each individual pupil. I believe this principle to be paramount. It is the duty of the public schools in America to take each child as he comes to them, place him in the environment and under the conditions most suited to his mental and physical growth and assist him, to the extent of their resources, in developing his native ability.

I believe that as long as the welfare and educational development of each child is the basis of our attempts at progress, the schools of North Hampton will continue the advance which they have made during recent years.

Although but three pupils graduated from our eighth grade last June, the quality of work done in your schools is again vouched for by the records of these three in their secondary school work. There are no failing pupils among these three—in fact of the thirty-six ranks assigned during the first term there is but one unsatisfactory mark.

The work of the school nurse has been especially arduous this year, as various epidemics have appeared in our schools. Mrs. Dolbec has given generously of her time both in school visits and follow up work. With the cooperation of the parents, I am sure, the physical health of our children will be well guarded.

As is the custom the statistical report is included herein. Our percent of attendance 94.9 is practically the same as that of the past two years. This is a good average and seems to be all we can expect, under normal conditions. Once again the East school leads with a percentage of 96.6.

I wish again to thank you, as a board, for helpful advice always rendered me in the duties of my office.

Respectfully submitted,

ROY W. GILLMORE,

Superintendent of Schools
